THE ROWING SQUAD

£260 Grant For New

Special To "The Star"

POLICEMEN are to make a raid on Henley Regatta.

A rowing squad is busy preparing for the job.

They hope to seize the Thames Challenge Cup from the American holders. Taken. Academics.

TOOK UP CHALLENGE

Mr. C. B. S. Tugwell, hon. secretary of the National Rowing Association, has stated: "The cost of competing at Henley is prohibitive, and I am afraid very few will be entering."

The cops intend to show, however, that it can be done cheaply by an enthusiastic club, and for this reason will cut out most of the social side of Henley.

The captain of the club, P.C. G. Smith, of Hammersmith, has a problem—he doesn't know where to find a policeman the usual size of a cox!

STAMINA

"As far as stamina and endurance go," he told a "Star" reporter, "We can give most of the crews a few points, but timing counts as much as strength in rowing."

The men are putting in a lot of practice on the Hammersmith Reach, and in about a month we shall select a provisional eight.

"We shall go all out to get that cup away from America."
