Sporting Heritage Updates

National Sporting Heritage Day Media Partner

THE WEEK
Junior

We're excited to announce that our media partner for this year's National Sporting Heritage Day is the children's magazine,

The Week Junior. The publication will be featuring details on the campaign in their magazine on 23 July along with a map designed by our resident illustrator, Jess Hartshorn, showcasing some of the sporting heritage exhibitions taking place across the country over the summer break.

You can see further details on 10 exhibitions which have been captured on the interactive map here:

bit.ly/MapofSH.

Big thanks to the following museums for their contribution: The World Rugby Museum, Scottish Football Museum, Clifton Park Museum, Peterborough Museum and Art Gallery, Silverstone Interactive Museum, London 2012 Legacy Exhibition, National Horse Racing Museum, National Football Museum, National Paralympic Heritage Centre, The National Cycle Museum.

The Week Junior will also be doing a follow up feature that will appear in the magazine in October showcasing some of the events and projects that take part in this year's #NSHD2022.

Sporting Heritage members can subscribe to The Week Junior this summer and join in their Summer of Reading challenge for a chance to win some amazing prizes. Plus you can try your first 6 issues FREE (RRP £19.50) - and continue to save 51% month after month when you subscribe.

National Sporting Heritage Day 2022
The countdown begins to 30 September...

#NSHD2022 – Celebrating Diversity in Sport

We have had some fantastic applications to this year's NSHD Community

Grant Fund from across a very wide range of organisations and sports. We will be announcing this year's recipients over the next couple of weeks. In the meantime, the countdown to NSHD2022 starts now!

Soon, we will release more details of how to plan your event and make the most of the support and resources already available on our website.

Our NSHD2022 Resource Pack, full of hints and tips to make the most of the day is now available: bit.ly/NSHD2022ResourcePck.

Don't forget to register your event to make the most of the build-up on coverage on the day. You can find everything you need here: bit.ly/Plan4NSHD2022.

On The Ball! A celebration of women's football in Sheffield

The city is currently co-hosting the UEFA Women's Euro 2022 so we've uncovered amazing stories of individuals, past and present, and their experience of the beautiful game. Featuring:

- Online Exhibition featuring women and girls past and present, and their love of football (see link below)
- In Conversations with several individuals who have studied, supported and played football (bit.ly/WEURO2022conversations).
- Oral histories
- Podcast with Pauline Braham of Football Unites Racism Divides (FURD) (see link below)
- Series of Webinars (see link in Events and Training below).

On The Ball! A Celebration of Women's Football in Sheffield

As Sheffield prepares to co-host the UEFA Women's EURO 2022, we're delighted to be able to highlight some of the amazing women and girls, past and present, with a connection to women's football in the city.

This exhibition presents photographs and stories of those individuals, celebrating their achievements and their love of the beautiful game.

We'd love to find out about more women and girls in football in Sheffield and discover hidden histories. If you've got a story you'd like to share, please click on 'Add your exhibit to this exhibition.'

Education Programme Update

On 13 July the 'education takeover' of our Twitter feed offered a wonderful opportunity to share and showcase the wide range of resources now available to freely download on the website:

www.sportingheritage.org.uk/content/category/what-we-do/education.

You can still access all the information shared on the evening on Twitter using #YourSportingStory and #SportAndEducation. We are also delighted that the full suite of resources will be featured in a paper being presented at the forthcoming British Society of Sports History Annual Conference at De Montfort University on 25 August.

Most immediately, do take the opportunity to check out two resources which explore the sporting sporting of two major events taking place over the next month:

Sporting Heritage Conference 2022

Event theme

We are thrilled to announce that this year's Sporting Heritage conference will be a one-day in-person event on the theme of 'Sport and Heritage'. We will explore how these two areas relate to each other across a wide range of activity, what has worked well and where there is still work to be done!

Date and venue

Previously conference has always been in October but this year we will be moving it to November. This decision has been made recently so apologies to those who had saved the original October date. We are just confirming the final details for the event – watch out for a special Conference 2022 e-shot dropping into your inbox in the next two weeks...

Webinars

UEFA Women's Euro 2022 Heritage Programme Sessions now available

Sporting Heritage was commissioned to deliver a programme of support for this year's competition. As part of the programme we have delivered a series of webinars aimed at supporting staff and volunteers across the nine host cities to understand the value of football heritage and how to tell the stories of those involved in the women's game.

Three of these sessions are now available via the Sporting Heritage website: www.sportingheritage.org.uk/content/what-we-do/projects/uefa-womens-euros-22/webinars-2.

Funding Opportunities

Grants With Deadlines

National Lottery Heritage Fund Heritage Innovation Fund

This new funding initiative will give pioneering organisations the freedom to be ambitious in their thinking and help shape the future of the heritage workforce.

The Heritage Innovation Fund will give groups the power to be more experimental, creative and try new ways of working to meet the future demands and ambitions for the UK's diverse heritage. Through a combination of financial support, expert advice and collaboration, the Fund will help organisations to explore, test, and grow ideas to meet the challenges faced by the sector.

Applications for the Explore phase are currently being accepted, with grants of up to £25,000 available to cover organisations' time and exploration activities for six months. The pilot is open to not-for-profit and public sector organisations, local authorities, as well as a private owners of heritage.

A series of online workshops is available (to help organisations understand the aims of the programme and hone ideas) on 4 August, 24 August and 13 September.

Find out more at: www.heritagefund.org.uk/funding/heritage-innovation-fund.

Application deadline: Tuesday 27 September.

And don't forget about the Sporting Heritage free funding finder.

Search potential funders related to your organisation and area of work here: www.sportingheritage.org.uk/content/advice/funding-finder.

SH Membership

We aim to bring as much freely available information and support to the sector at this time and are trying to open access that would usually only be free to our members, to all for the next six months. If you are able to join as a member though, we would be so hugely grateful as we rely on our membership fees to keep running and keep doing what we do.

You can join by visiting our website here:

www.sportingheritage.org.uk/become-a-member.

Thank you all for your support!
